Combine your passion for horses with your work

Do you have a passion for horses and an interest in societal developments? Then this challenging and fascinating programme is for you. During the programme you will be educated to make a difference in the international equine sector as for example a horse feed consultant, marketer, breeding expert or event manager.

During your studies, half of your time you will spend on studying topics related to the horse. You will learn about nutrition, genetics and animal behaviour and welfare. The other half of your time will be spent on the business side of the equine world. Topics such as marketing, finance, event management and entrepreneurship are taught. In the meantime you will automatically be part of the programme's extensive international network.

The equine sector is dynamic and developing rapidly. The Netherlands is leading the way in this respect. The sector would like to show what is most important: respectful treatment of horses. Everyone who works with horses is responsible for the welfare of the animal, whether it's about the leisure riders or the professionals in sport. Will you take the lead?

“During my studies and international internships, I was able to discover where I feel at home and what my strengths are.”

online marketer
